IBA Group Launches New Website

IBA Group released a newly developed website (www.iba-it-de.com). Intended for German visitors, the website provides information about IBA IT GmbH, the IBA office in Germany, including its services, client geography, and competitive advantages.

IBA Gomel Marks Fifth Year

On July 26, IBA Gomel, the second largest development center of IBA Group, celebrated its fifth anniversary. The event gathered more than 200 attendees, including IBA Group executives and employees, as well as representatives of municipal authorities and major enterprises. IBA Gomel received warm congratulations from its American, Danish, German, Russian, and Belarusian partners.

IBA Minsk Participates in International IT Summer School

From July 2 to July 8, the 9th International Summer School Modern Information Technologies 2006 was held for students and postgraduates at the recreation center of the Belarusian State University. The primary goal of the summer school was to support and develop the interest of students and postgraduates towards research activities in the IT area. Vladimir Dyubkov, Director of the IBA Training Center, greeted participants of the summer school on behalf of IBA and spoke on the role of certification testing for post-graduate IT education. As in the previous years, IBA was a sponsor of the event.

IBA Group Introduces Products and Services in Asia

From September 20 to September 26, IBA Group participated in Game Connection Asia 2006 to present its game project Tachyon Drive, as well as establish partner relations with interactive software publishers and showcase IBA services in the Asian region. IBA Group was the only exhibitor from Eastern Europe at the event that was held in Tokyo, Japan, and Shanghai, China.